OUR BRAND

In 1998, in the quiet English countryside of Hampshire, an audacious idea took shape: what if a mobile phone could carry the same weight of craftsmanship, prestige, and emotion as the finest timepiece or the rarest automobile? That idea became Vertu.

Four years later, the house unveiled the Signature, a phone unlike anything the world had seen. Handcrafted from the most exquisite materials by a single dedicated artisan, the Signature didn't merely enter the market, it created one. For the first time, luxury had a voice, a connection, a dial tone.

Today, more than two decades since that defining moment, Vertu continues to stand alone at the pinnacle of luxury mobile telephony. The category it invented is the category it still leads, driven by the same uncompromising commitment to excellence, exclusivity, and innovation that has defined the house from its very first day.

MISSION & VISION

Our Vision

"Vertu exists to occupy a place of unrivalled prestige in the world of luxury mobile telephony. Our vision is to be not only the leading name in this space, but the most respected and most desired — a brand that commands admiration across cultures, continents, and generations. We seek to set the standard by which all luxury communication devices are measured."

Our Mission

"Our mission is to create an experience that engages every sense and lingers long after the moment has passed. We believe that true luxury is felt, not merely seen — and so we dedicate ourselves to delighting our customers through meticulous craftsmanship, rare materials, and an unwavering attention to detail. Whether one encounters Vertu in a boutique, through our services, or simply by holding one of our handsets, the experience must be nothing short of remarkable. This is our promise: to bring joy, wonder, and a sense of the exceptional to every interaction with our brand."

EVENTS

Vertu events are exclusive gatherings that bring together the world's most distinguished figures from fashion, technology, and culture, creating moments as rare and memorable as the devices themselves. From intimate product launches at iconic venues such as Harrods to high-octane showcases alongside the world's most prestigious automotive brands, each event is curated with the same uncompromising attention to detail that defines the Vertu name. These are not merely product reveals — they are immersive celebrations of craftsmanship, innovation, and the art of living exceptionally.

Inspired by the azure ocean, VERTU unveiled its latest touchscreen smartphone, the Constellation Blue, with a celebration during Milan Fashion Week. The event featured specially curated installations showcasing various facets of blue in stunning visual displays.

Vertu took over London's iconic Harrods to launch the Agent Q, the world's first AI Agent Phone. The exclusive event brought together figures from fashion, tech, and media for an evening reception, with CEO Wiji Singh Gorwara leading the celebration. The hand-crafted device, wrapped in leather and featuring a gold-plated falcon-wing SIM chamber, marked a bold new chapter for the luxury brand.
